Summary: Mai's secret is getting harder and harder to keep. What will happen when the ones she love the most find out. Will they leave her or will they stay. Will she run or stay. Will more than one secret be discovered. Sorry I'm no good when it comes to summarys. I will not say the pairings you must read to find out. Rated M for deaths and depressing matters.

Mai's secret

I do not own Ghost Hunt sadly.

Mai's POV

"NNNNOOOO!" That's all I could do as waking up after my nightmare. "It was the same." That was true it was always the same. I would start out in the garden of my former house. My thoughts where interrupted by the sound of my phone.

Naru Naru Naru

I answer it only to get yelled at by my boss. "You're late and were is my tea!" At the mention of being late I look at the clock, it read 9:50. I get up and say "I will be right there Naru." So I hung up and went to get a shower. When I finished I looked in the mirror and noticed a lot has changed. Over the years Naru and Kin left for England with Genes body and came back. That's right I, Mai Taniyama am 23, with long brown hair with silver streaks. My right eye has become emotionless and the left side of my face is covered with a mask. I need the mask because of a curse that I have had sense I was born. That curse would be that I have a demon locked up in my body.

I got dressed and decided it was time to go so I jumped on my motorcycle and headed for SPR.
